By-Pass Meet Dec. 1

Mayor Manly Bryan and members of the City Commission will appear before the Texas State Highway Commission at 9 a.m. Wednesday in Austin to plea for a western by-pass route of I-27 around Canyon. The highway department engineers in Amarillo have recommended an eastern route, that would direct traffic southeast from Stuckey's connecting with Washington Street 2 miles south of the highway 217 intersection.

Commissioners, Chamber of Commerce, Downtown Merchants and the Planning and Zoning Board voted in October to support a route that would leave U.S. 87 at Stuckey's and go southwest to the western city limits of Canyon, then cut back southeast and connect with U. S. 87 south of the city.

The eastern route would cost an estimated $12,948,000, and the western route is estimated at $15,782,000.

Virgil Henson, financial vice president of West Texas State University, and Randall County Commissioners supported the eastern route during a public hearing in late September.

The city will urge highway commissioners to run the route westward to keep the tourist traffic near the city. Chamber president Eddie Knowles said he believes the city will benefit from a western corridor because

President's Home Sells

The home of WTSU President James P. Cornette sold for $8,000 to Mr. and Mrs. Wesley Cox Tuesday afternoon, according to Virgil Henson, Vice President for Financial Affairs at the University.

Henson, Dr. Cornette, and Jim Jenkins, representing the board of regents, opened sealed bids on the house Tuesday.

Henson said that the house would probably be moved from the campus late next spring, depending upon the progress made in the construction of the university's new science building.

tourists going to Palo Duro Canyon State Park will still go through the city, but if the route goes east, all tourist traffic will miss Canyon.

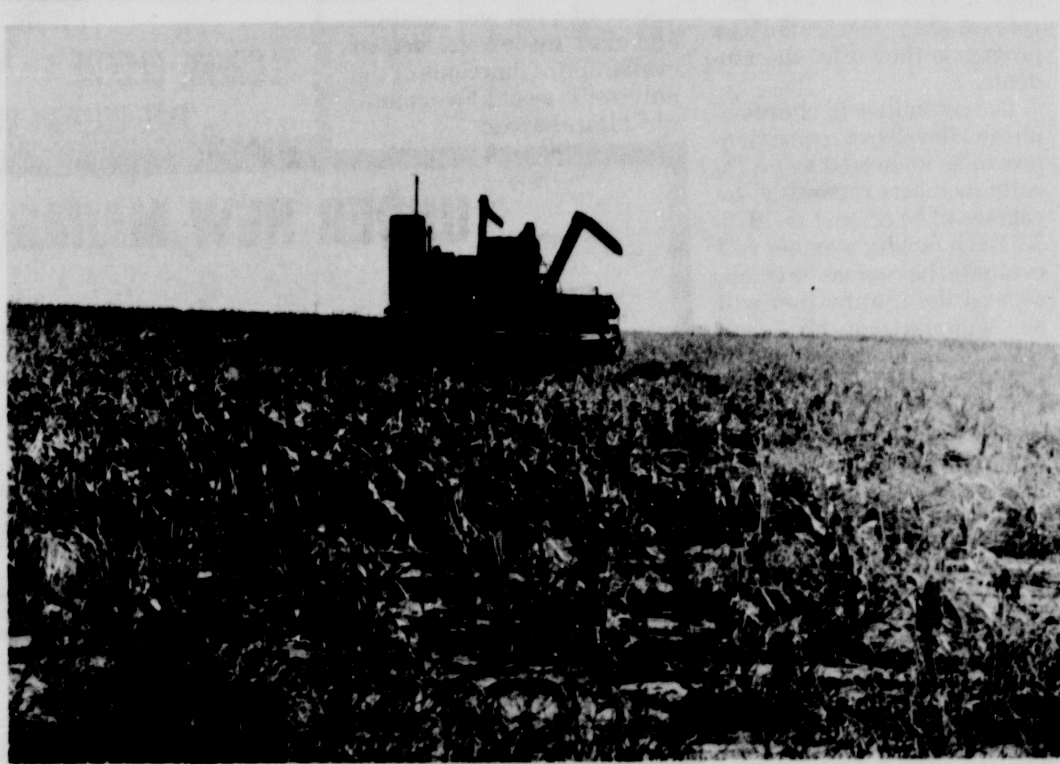

The city leaders have collected petitions in support of the west route in efforts to get the highway by-pass west of Canyon.

Prior to the Wednesday meeting, highway commissioners will listen to and read all material sent in as part of the public hearing. At that time, engineers gave their reasons for recommending Route A, which is the eastern corridor. Farmers, home owners and land developers supported all of the five routes at the hearing, but the business community began to solidify after the hearing for Route E, or the western route.

"One of the reasons we had never thought seriously of Route E previous to the public hearing was because we had been told we could not have an interchange at Fourth Avenue," said Knowles. "At the hearing the engineers showed maps with an interchange drawn in, and if that is possible, then route E is the logical one for the city."

District engineer Charles W. Smith said at the hearing the only way route E would be feasible is if the interchange on Fourth Ave. were built. But he added the interchange might be difficult to design.

A lonely combine sits idle in the midst of uncut maize this week as all harvesting halted due to wet weather. Randall County Agent John Brazzil said only about two more days of work is needed in the fields, but damp weather keeps the farmers from completing the yearly harvest. About 15 per cent of the crop remains in the fields, according to Brazzil.

Commission Okays Car

The Randall County Commissioners authorized Sheriff L. S. (Slim) Johnston to advertise for bids for a new car for the sheriff's department at the commission meeting Monday.

The new car will replace the car wrecked Nov. 15 while Sheriff's deputy, Jim Merrick, was attempting to intercept the robber of Kiddie City in Amarillo.

Sheriff Johnston said he planned to include in the bid specifications an allowance for salvage of the wrecked car.

If the bids did not allow enough money for the salvage, he said he planned to use the car for parts.

The court also approved the purchase of a night vision device for the sheriff's office at a cost of $275 to the county. Johnston said the devices cost the army $2,800 but due to a surplus the army is selling the devices for $1,100 to the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission. The PRPC will pay $825 of the cost.

The court approved the division into lots of about 53 acres in McCormick Place, between Mescalero Park and McCormick Road.

The board tabled a decision on a second plat until a road had been inspected. Both plats must be approved by the city of Amarillo.

A fire contract, identical to the one approved last year, was signed with the city of Amarillo. Randall County is to pay the city of Amarillo

$3,000 to fight fires in Randall County as far south as Hollywood Road.

Paul Ferguson, refuge manager at the Buffalo Lake Wildlife Refuge, presented the court with a check for $4,210 for county taxes on 7,000 acres of land in the refuge. The money will be used for county road maintenance and by the Canyon Independent School District.

Ferguson said he hoped to open the lake by the spring of 1973. He said there were now 83,000 channel cat in the lake and 30,000 ducks and 500 Canada geese in the area. He said that the lake still had some pollution problems but that the refuge was getting better cooperation upstream.

He said that the water was (See COMMISSION, page 9)

Farmers Seeking More Cattle For Wheat Pasture Grazing

Shortage Eyed, Competition Keen

By MARGO WILLIAMS

Cattle are grazing by the thousands in wheat pastures across the county, and the peak is yet to come.

So say farmers and ranchers who have an eye on the cattle industry.

Sporting one of the best wheat pasture crops in several years, the Randall County cattlemen are pleased with grazing prospects and feed yards are reporting "full houses."

The only problem facing the industry is a shortage of cattle, because of the keen competition, says county agent John Brazzil.

"I think there is around 40,000 cattle feeding in the county outside of the feed lots," Brazzil predicted. "The reason there is not more is because of the scarcity of cattle to buy."

He said many more cattle could be handled due to the available wheat pasture, but "the market is tight."

And he declared that shipping cattle from all parts of the United States is an expensive process that many farmers are unable to finance.

But feed yard owners say what is in the yards is as much or more than what has been available the past few years.

Tom Herrick of the Randall County Feed Yards says that lot is housing some 72,000 cows, which is an all-time record for this time of year. The Swisher County feed yard is at capacity also with 45,000 head of cattle.

Herrick said his operation tries to replace the cattle that are shipped out weekly, which totals around 3,000 head from each yard.

"Because of tense competition, the cattle weight is getting lighter and lighter," he commented. "There is less available feeder cattle because the competition is so keen."

Homer Mundale of the Happy Wheat Growers expressed the same sentiments, saying, "It is hard to get cattle now, although there were a lot of cattle placed during October."

He continued saying very few yearling cattle are available now, "because everyone is competing for the cattle."

Mundale noted a change in the feed lot industry over the past few years, pointing out feed yards used to feed two-year-old cattle, rather than the yearlings.

And both men explained the Texas Panhandle has taken the lead in feed lot operation the past few years.

"In 1960 Texas fed some 250,000 head of cattle," Herrick declared. "In November of this year the number was 1.6 million head of cattle."

"And 85 to 90 per cent of that total are fed within a (See CATTLE, page 9)

School Office Opens To Sell Game Tickets

Tickets to the bi-district football game Saturday between the Canyon Eagles and Andrews will be on sale at the high school office from 1-3 p.m. Friday.

Assistant principal Jack York said the office will open for persons desiring tickets for the game, which will be played at 2:30 p.m. Saturday in Lubbock's Jones Stadium.

Cost of the tickets will be $2.50 for adults and $1 for students.

2 Return To Rec Board

Jim Christopher and Dr. Dudley Moore were returned to the board of directors of the summer recreation program and a budget of $6,400 was adopted for the coming year at a meeting of the membership Monday night in the Activity Center.

Dr. A. J. Luquette, president of the executive board, gave a report and showed a film on the progress of the program last summer.

A general meeting is held each November. Seven board members serve staggered terms.

Eagles Tackle Andrews

Each of the last six weeks, since District 1-AAA competition began, Coach Ron Mills has told his Canyon Eagles gridders that they were about to play the most important game of the season they had played thus far, and now he must do so once again.

But this game really is the most important. The Eagles will play the Andrews Mustangs in Lubbock, a strange field for both teams and on a strange playing surface—astroturf.

The Ponies finished their season with a 6-4 mark with losses to Sweetwater, San Angelo Lakeview, Lamesa and Kermit. Their only district loss was to Kermit, but they took a 41-18 beating in that game.

Head Andrews Coach Jim Keeling, who is in his first year at Andrews after having moved from Lubbock Estacado, said, "I do not think that we played badly against Kermit, they just had a good football team."

The Mustangs will count on the wishbone and wing-T offensive formations against the Eagles. Running the offense will be quarterback Jim Leach, younger brother of West Texas State signal-caller Ron Leach. "He is the best one we've got. We think he does a good job," Keeling said of his 140-pound play-maker.

"Their quarterback is tall and lean and he runs the wishbone pretty well. They don't like to throw the ball much, but when they do they throw it well," commented Mills.

"They also have two real good halfbacks (Mickey Matthews and Bill Ervin) and one of the best ends we have faced (Alfred Rougeaux)."

The Mustangs lost three of the first four games that they played but Mills said "They have improved a considerable amount since then."

From end to end Canyon's seven offensive front men outweigh the Mustangs' defense (See EAGLES, page 9)

'Help Light Canyon' Drive Scheduled

A door-to-door campaign to raise $1500 for the Chamber of Commerce Christmas lights will be conducted Monday evening from 6-8 o'clock.

The two-hour drive will be sponsored by the Canyon Study Club and co-sponsored by the Heritage Study Club.

To climax the drive, Chamber president Eddie Knowles will turn on all the Christmas lights at 8 p.m. Monday.

The lights include choir boys around the county courthouse, and candy canes along Fourth Ave. and 23rd Street. Two large banners reading Merry Christmas will be strung across 23rd Street at each end of the city.

Merchants in the city are urged to light their individual red lights Monday said Knowles.

The fund raising drive headquarters will be at the First National Bank in Canyon. Persons not at home during the drive are asked to go by the bank and leave a donation.

"We are wanting to get money from the residents of Canyon who will enjoy the lights," said project chairman Mrs. Shirley Kitchens.

Canyon chamber purchased the lights and signed a note to pay for the decorations.

"We could pay for all but around $1500," Knowles explained.

Several money-raising projects have been held the past year; including a business-to-business campaign last week to collect the necessary money.

Canyon Eagle cheerleaders have challenged a group of students to a contest in a four-block area of the city. The girls will take Hunsley Hills to collect money in, and the other students will canvass Hidden Valley Addition.

Winners will be given free soft drinks and hamburgers.

Project members from the study club include Mrs. Lila Vars and Mrs. Sharon Brown.

FROM THE CANYON RIM

The most scathing mail we've received here in years has been from out of town people who can't get the Canyon Sunday News.

We throw the paper free in Canyon Sundays and because it is handled in this way we cannot send it through the mail.

Here at the News we've wrestled with this problem for months.

At last we've come to a decision. We will go paid with the Sunday newspaper about Feb. 1 and it will be available anywhere in the world through the mail.

The Sunday paper will continue to be delivered by carrier and the Thursday edition probably all will go through the post office.

My nomination for the Canyon Man of the Year award this year is Dr. A.J. Luquette. Dr. Luquette spearheaded a drive to establish the Summer Recreation Program here and it was a success the first year.

He told a group of supporters Monday night that 450 youngsters were served through the program last summer.

Largely through Dr. Luquette, courts are available at the Activity Center for small fry basketball.

Dr. Luquette has a knack for making a mediocre youngster feel like an All-American. He took a scrub football team to the Toy Bowl last year. The kids love him.

Canyon News nomination for Man of the Year: Dr. A.J. Luquette.

Speaking of football, the Canyon Eagles were humiliated in their own minds last Friday night by a cellar-dwelling Tulia Hornet team.

Our boys just couldn't seem to do anything right and Tulia couldn't seem to do anything wrong.

The reason: Canyon had been up for three games in a row, Dumas, Perryton and Muleshoe. It's hard to get a team up three weeks in a row.

The Eagles will have an advantage over Andrews in this respect. The Andrews team had to be high as a kite for Monahans. Maybe they will be down Saturday and maybe we'll just be better than they are even if they are up.

I think the Eagles will win Saturday afternoon in Lubbock.

My kids bring home stray, wounded and sick animals — a trait for which Dr. Joe Markham fervently gives thanks nightly.

We got our dog, Hobo, just that way years ago. He followed my oldest daughter, Kaysee, home and has been with us ever since.

The same thing brought us Junior, a bobtailed cat. Junior came emaciated and beragled. That's how Dr. Markham got the money for the addition to his country home a year or so back.

Strangely enough, all the animals we get are female and biology being what it is our home often resembles a cross between a zoo and a maternity ward.

I've been my own best customer over the years running classifieds trying to give away "cute puppies" — the little monsters — of Heinz varieties.

I finally put a stop to this with two operations.

Breathing a sigh of relief, I contemplated being stuck only with their feed bill for a while.

Hardly were the stitches out when my youngest son came home from school followed by an ailing female feline with a gash in the back of its head.

He robbed his piggy bank of his life's savings, $3, and bicycled her to Dr. Markham's. Back at home she took to feed and in a couple of days was getting in shape to receive wandering males of her species.

Then the ungrateful wretch just up and left. There were a few tears around the house.

Delighted with the unexpected departure, I thought sad thoughts like when I snagged my best suit on the front yard gate last week so I could be of somber countenance befitting the occasion.

If Dr. Markham had been there he would have shed real tears. He missed out on a projected operation to remove the possibility of future offspring, a feline tonsillectomy, rabies shots, bad cold shots, to say nothing of a hefty board bill when the family goes on vacation.

I talked to a farmer this week who hates cats even more than I do.

He says city folks are always dumping cats on his farm. They have devoured his quail and pheasant — all lovingly stocked and tenderly cared for.

"It ought to be a felony and a penitentiary offense to dump a cat on someone else's property," he asserted. "Well, maybe a misdemeanor with a maximum fine of $200," I allowed.

"A felony!" he insisted.

Brad Wilson Pens Articles

Brad Wilson, son of Mrs. Glenna Wilson, has penned four articles in the fall issue of Par Golf Quarterly.

Wilson, a golf instructor at the Star Dust Country Club and a writer, is a regular contributor to the Quarterly and to the Golf Digest.

Articles in the Quarterly are entitled, "Trevino Talks About Putting," "Al Abrego-Teacher of the Young," "Nothing Bothers The Old Human Hinge," and "Left-Hander With a Racquet."

Wilson played with Glen Campbell last week, according to Mrs. Wilson, and that story will be in the March Quarterly.

Dear Sir:

I would like to comment on Troy Martin's column "From The Canyon Rim" of November 11, 1971 concerning Representative Ben Bynum's statement to the effect that it might be wise to investigate the ramifications of combining Randall and Potter Counties into a single County of Palo Duro.

It does seem foolish to me for the taxpayers of the two counties to have the burden of expense of two county commissioners, two tax assessors-collectors, two county attorneys, etc. when 85% of the population of Randall County lives in Amarillo.

It also seems to me that Mr. Martin in trying to discredit Rep. Bynum's proposal uses analogies that were not appropriate at all. In his examples of "super counties" and "super state", none of the cities named straddled state or county lines. Mr. Martin was obviously a drowning man clutching at straws to support his position.

One wonders WHY Mr. Martin would go to such lengths of superficial analysis to heap derision on an idea that may very well have great merit. What was his motive?

The suspicion emerges that Mr. Martin may have a conflict of interest. The press seems so diligent ferreting out conflict of interest in others, one wonders if the fourth estate would show equal enthusiasm in publishing a conflict of interest of its own. It would, because freedom of the press implies impartial responsibility of the press.

I would like to ask Mr. Martin these questions:

1. Would The Canyon News lose the revenue of the required publication of Legal Notices in the paper of the County Seat if Randall and Potter Counties were combined?

2. If this income were lost to The Canyon News, how many thousands of dollars of income would The News lose in a years time?

I think that Mr. Martin as a newspaper man believes that public officials should answer questions of conflict of interest. For that reason, I feel sure that he would not hesitate to answer questions posed to a public newspaper in order to determine if the paper is discharging its public responsibility impartially and without conflict of interest.

Me thinks Mr. Martin doth protest too much!

Sincerely,
Ed Aiton

cc: Rep. Ben Bynum
Judge Woody Pond

(Ed. Note: As a matter of fact, if the two counties were combined The Canyon News would stand an excellent chance of getting ALL the legal notice revenue for BOTH counties. My interest is the interest of the people involved.)

Curriculum Study Underway At WT

By ELAINE PEEPLES
A committee now in the process of making an evaluation of the curriculum at West Texas State University should have a long-term continuing effect on the institution according to Dr. Ray Malzahn, vice-president for academic affairs.

The Committee on the Evaluation of Academic Educational Experiences was appointed by Dr. James P. Cornette, president of the university, in November of 1970.

The purpose of the committee, according to Dr. Malzahn, is to make a study of academic and educational experiences which the university provides students.

Dr. Malzahn said the work of this committee provides additional means of evaluation and promotion of innovation in teaching and programs.

Dr. Samuel B. Gould, chairman of the Committee on Non-Traditional Study funded by the Carnegie Corporation in New York, visited the campus in order to develop a greater interest in self-study and to provide some insight into present trends for developing an innovated curriculum, Malzahn said.

The committee then met and divided the work of the study into several phases to more effectively study the problem.

The first phase of the study which is to be completed by December 10 is a self-evaluation by the faculty of the courses they teach and the programs they offer the students.

The committee in charge of phase 1 developed a questionnaire to be answered by all faculty members regarding the courses to be offered in 1972-73. Each faculty member will evaluate the courses he teaches, and the information will be summarized on each class, Malzahn said.

The questionnaire includes academic goals of the course, the relevance of the goals, how the students are to achieve these goals, and an evaluation of student achievement of these goals. The faculty members are then asked to give their recommendations for improvement in the course.

The committee in charge of phase 2, the student evaluation of academic experiences, held its first meeting Tuesday afternoon.

The committee will discuss approaches to evaluation and decide what areas should be evaluated. Dr. Malzahn said it is assumed that the evaluation will include the course work and the teacher of the course.

Malzahn said the recommendations should be available early in the spring semester and that the evaluation will take place in late spring.

Phase 3 is an evaluation by the ex-students of WTSU. The committee in charge of this phase should meet in

Our World

By ANN BROWN

One of the blessings Americans thanked God for on that first Thanksgiving Day, November 29, 1623, was deliverance from communal living — the chance to be free.

Socialism is not new to the 20th century; it has appeared sporadically throughout recorded history. And without exception it has failed.

In theory it sounds great: Each put in according to his ability, and each take out according to his need. The only thing wrong with that beautiful philosophy is that it won't work.

When God handed down the law from Mt. Sinai, He forbade man to steal from his neighbor. Thus He gave divine sanction to private ownership.

To emphasize the sacred right of private property the 10th commandment forbids man to even want anything that belongs to his neighbor.

All who espouse socialism are proclaiming themselves wiser than God. Surely the Creator who made man knows what is most conducive to his welfare.

The many hippie communes, which spring up in America during the 60's are steadily disappearing. Not all of them have dissolved as dramatically as the Manson Family, but most for the same reason: selfish greed.

The explosive that threatens to blow the world apart is not any material element we possess, but the ideas we cherish. The danger lies not in the atom, but in us.

The blight that is cursing our world today is the same one that spoiled the garden of Eden: disbelieving our Creator.

Solomon said it was good for man to eat and drink and enjoy the fruit of his labor (Eccl. 5:18-19). He did not say one man should enjoy the fruit of another's labor.

Governor Bradford had to see that first little American settlement almost die of starvation before he rescinded the communal order.

Rites Held For Miss Thompson

Funeral services for Miss Linda Louise Thompson, 28, of Lubbock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Thompson, were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Resthaven Cemetery in Lubbock.

Miss Thompson, granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. L.B. Walters of Canyon, died at 12:15 a.m. Sunday. She had been ill with cancer.

Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. L.M. Thompson of Paducah.

When each man had a piece of land of his own and the freedom to keep the fruit of his labors, they all went to work. The industrious because they wanted to, and the lazy because they had to.

Communes can't succeed because of the basic nature of man. In every group there is always some greedy fellow who will take advantage of his fellows if he gets a chance. (Remember Judas?) This generates destructive resentment in the hearts of the honest members.

The only way to avoid trouble is for every able-bodied man to look out for himself, and the strong support the helpless. This is free enterprise — God's plan; it works.

How has communist Russia survived some 55 years? By swallowing her productive neighbors, conscripting slave labor, and subsidies from America.

When Russians can buy our grain 45 cents cheaper than American feeders can purchase it, who pays the difference? The American taxpayer, of course.

The colonists found nothing to be thankful for under socialism — only misery, starvation, and death. Yet some 300 years later that story was deleted from the history books, and Americans started drifting back into the same old trap.

One of the facts of life is that it is impossible to count our blessings and complain at the same time. All who stop and sincerely thank God for His goodness have neither the time nor desire to whine.

As we thank God for the blessings He has poured out on this land for the past 348 years, may we place our long-cherished freedom near the top of the list. And may we be willing to obey God's rules to keep it.

Umbarger News

BY SUSAN DOLLE

Of all the nations on earth, Americans should be the first to celebrate Thanksgiving Day. We above all others have been blessed with a generosity beyond belief. Our dinners today tell of the bounty we eat and enjoy. We are secure in warm homes surrounded by relatives and friends. We are free to use our talents and pursue any interest. We can be educated and can direct our own method of being ruled. Our only limitation is that of misusing freedom. Therefore, we give thanks to God for all of His blessings.

The liturgy for a Mass of Thanksgiving offered this morning by Monsignor Mathew F. Schaffle in St. Mary's Catholic Church is being planned and arranged by the CYO members. Hymns of praise and thanksgiving will be directed by Susan Lindemann with guitar accompaniment. Dwight Brandt will be the lector and Jan Wieck has arranged decorations for the church.

Mr. and Mrs. John G. Batenhorst will be celebrating their sixtieth wedding anniversary this Sunday. Their children will honor them with a dinner in the parish hall at noon.

The couple was married in Oleyen, Neb. Nov. 28, 1911. They have resided in Umbarger since 1917. Guests expected from Nebraska include the maid of honor, Mrs. Elizabeth Kampschneider, Mrs. Batenhorst's sister from Dodge. Also, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Heiman of Fremont and Mr. and Mrs. Rudolph Kampschneider of Howels will attend.

The Batenhorsts have 8 children, Raymond, Sylvester, and Leonard, Mrs. Vincent Friemel, and Mrs. Denis Brandt of Umbarger, Mrs. Isidore Reinart of Hereford, Mrs. John Vorwald of Salda, Colo. and Mrs. Werner Henschel of Groves Springs, Mo. There are forty grandchildren and sixteen great grandchildren.

The octogenarians will be present at the weddings of their grandchildren, Sandra Henschel and Dale Reinart this weekend.

An annual Commemorative Service for deceased members of the Knights of Columbus was held Tuesday night in the KC hall. The ritual was read by officers of the Umbarger council. Widows and families of the deceased were given a special invitation to attend.

Pistols and Petticoats Square Dancing Club held its regular club dance last Sunday with Herrick Allen presenting new calls. A large group of guests from Ye Olde Squares, Levis and Lace, Reddy Squares, and Helium Squares of Amarillo, and the Merry Mixers of Hereford helped the members from nine squares. The club will dance again on Dec. 3, the first Sunday of the month.

Inadequate as I am to comment on the national scene, I must say George Meany distresses me. Misused power cannot go unnoticed — in the end it will probably destroy itself. The power of labor, meaningful in its infancy, must now be curtailed. Arrogance and rudeness displayed to the president last week, even the denial of the playing of "Hail to the Chief," and the gaveling of the labor delegates to be seated when the president was shaking hands, spotlights the fact that Mr. Meany should not be treated as a leader among the American people. Leadership cannot be handled by children.

Good luck to Charlie Stocker, son of Mr. and Mrs. E.A. Stocker who has begun training in San Antonio in the United States Air Force.

Also David Gonzales, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ramuldo Gonzales, has been home for two weeks, he will go to Ft. Lewis to the replacement station prior to leaving for Korea.

WTSU Sponsors Police School

A police school on new traffic laws will be held Monday through Friday for Panhandle Law Enforcement officers on the campus of West Texas State University.

A course on new criminal laws held this week on the campus will conclude Friday, according to Bobby Hudson, security officer at WTSU.

Nineteen officers from the Panhandle area have enrolled in the two courses, including one from the Canyon Police Department and five from the WTSU Security Department.

The course is being conducted from 6 to 10 p.m. in Room 126 of the Activity Center.

Registrations are open at the WTSU security department or at the classroom, Hudson said.

The course is being conducted by the Texas A&M extension service and is sponsored by the WTSU Security Department.

Speaker for the class Tuesday was Tom Bullington, chief of the crime prevention division of the Texas Attorney General's office.

Church To Aid Dump Residents

The First Church of the Nazarene will begin a door-to-door campaign Wednesday in an effort to collect food, toys, and clothing for mission work in Juarez.

Workers will be wearing buttons, which read "Save the Dump," because, said Steven Northam, a lay missionary of the church, the 500 families who will benefit actually live in the garbage dump at Juarez. Most have four or five children, he said.

Northam said that in Juarez, a loaf of bread can be bought for half a cent, but that many of these people go hungry anyway.

Anyone who has a large contribution to make may call the pastor, Rev. Jack Pence, 655-4391, or get in touch with Northam, 1804 7th Ave.

Dalton Stewart and David Jackson portrayed the Nutcracker and Mouse King in a production of the Nutcracker Monday at the First Baptist Church before the nursery children. The dancers also performed at Rex Reeves Elementary School for third and fourth graders.

Children Preview "Nutcracker Suite"

Canyon kindergartners and third and fourth-graders at Rex Reeves Elementary School get a preview of "The Nutcracker Suite" Monday morning at First Baptist Church when dancers from the Amarillo Ballet Theatre presented portions of their third annual production of the Christmas work.

The dancers, students of Mrs. Peggy Norman, will support guest artists Edward Vilella and Violette Verdy of the New York City Ballet at 8 p.m. next Monday in the Civic Center Auditorium in Amarillo when the entire suite will be performed.

Canyon dancers in the cast are Meg Reeves, a clown, and Anne, a mouse. They are the daughters of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Reeves.

Tickets to the ballet are $6, $5, and $4. A dollar reduction for children under 12 is available in the $4 and $5 seats. Tickets can be obtained from Mrs. John Reeves.

The total tax roll last year amounted to $710,055.77 and about 76 per cent was collected during October last year, Mrs. Bruse said.

Mrs. Sigman Rites Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Oma Agnes Sigman, 1604 Eighth Ave., were conducted at 1 p.m. Wednesday in LaGrone funeral Chapel in Canyon.

Burial followed at 4 p.m. in the Littlefield Cemetery. Rev. J. Frank Peery, pastor of the First United Methodist Church, officiated.

Mrs. Sigman, who died in her home at 8:25 p.m. Monday, had resided in Canyon since 1946. She moved here from Earth.

The 77-year-old woman was born June 19, 1894 in Forestburg, and married H. W. Sigman in Nocona, Sept. 24, 1910. Mr. Sigman died Nov. 9, 1941.

Mrs. Sigman, who was a homemaker, was a member of the Canyon First United Methodist Church.

Pallbearers were grandsons, Vanis Sigman, Curtis Sigman, Stanley Sigman, Jr., Robert Sigman, Stephen Sigman, Leon Smith, Jr., J. A. Jones, Stuart Downing, Michael Sigman, David Smith and Joe D. Black.

Survivors include four daughters, Mrs. Scott Downing of Canyon, Mrs. Leon Smith of Friona, Mrs. L. H. Black of Littlefield and Mrs. Faye Jones of San Antonio; five sons, Cecil of Barber, Ark., Cecil of Odessa, Carroll of San Antonio, Stanley of Lubbock and V. J. of Earth; 26 grandchildren, 32 great grandchildren, and one great-great-grandchild.

BSP Chapter Hold Dinner For Moms

A dinner honoring mothers and guests of members of the Chi Upsilon Chapter of Beta Sigma Phi was held in Amarillo Nov. 11.

Mrs. Meade Michael acted as mistress of ceremonies. Mrs. Jack Sharp read a poem titled "I Never Knew," and Mrs. George Stevens, one titled "The Order of the Rose" and then explained the significance of the yellow rose, which is the sorority flower.

Guests received yellow roses following their introduction to the group.

Boy Scout Drive Set

Boy Scout annual drive begins in Canyon Tuesday, Nov. 30, says District Enrollment Chairman Gary Magness.

In a meeting of district officers Tuesday afternoon, Magness announced that two drives will be conducted this year in an effort to raise some $7,000.

The first drive will run from Nov. 30 to Dec. 9 and

Davises Have New Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Don Davis, 1303 Eighth Ave., have announced the adoption of a daughter, Amy Victoria, on Nov. 18.

The little girl is two months old.

The Davises also have two sons, John, 5, and Colby, 18 months.

The paternal grandmother is Mrs. M.E. Davis. Mr. and Mrs. C.A. Seitz of Austin are the maternal grandparents.

Funeral Read For Carl Bauer

Funeral services for Carl W. Bauer, 80, of Gravette, Ark., were held Wednesday afternoon in Gravette. He died Monday.

Bauer was the brother of Mrs. E. B. Harvey and Mrs. Lewis Harvey, who went to Arkansas for the funeral.

Other survivors include his wife, Erna; a son, Leonard, of Gravette; two daughters, Mrs. Elsie Rickwartz of Amarillo and Mrs. Leona Knox of Gravette; two brothers, two more sisters, 17 grandchildren and 16 great-grandchildren.

will be for parents and leaders of Boy Scouts on the unit level.

The second drive, scheduled during December, will be directed to friends of the scouts, who do not have sons in the scouting program.

This year's campaigns will be entitled "Friends of Scouts", Magness explained.

The chairman also noted every effort would be made this year to enroll each "scout friend" in a sustaining membership, which will mean they will be billed each year.

Pakistan, Moslem Faith Are Sue Hite Topics

Miss Virginia Allen spoke on the Moslem religion at a meeting of the Sue Hite Club Monday in the home of Mrs. Lee Reeves. Also on the program was WTSU student Jabbar Masood of Rawalpindi, Pakistan, who described the culture of his country and discussed the differences between East and West Pakistan and between Pakistan and the United States.

Masood said that 90 per cent of the people in his country are Moslem. His country is crowded and the people are poor, he said, so very few young people go to college. Most work to help their families make a living.

The club has planned to have its Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Virgil Henson at 3:45 p.m. Dec. 13.

Mrs. Margaret Moore will give the invocation and Mrs. Raymond Raillard will be in charge of the program. Carols are to be led by Mrs. R.D. Wheelock.

Mrs. Claude Zevely became a new member of the club Monday.

Co-hostesses for the meeting were Mrs. Flora Phillips, Mrs. Wendell Cain, and Mrs. Raillard.

Co-hostesses for the Christmas party are to be Mesdames Windy Miller, Robert Busted, Mitchell Jones, Hud Prichard, Dewey Foster, and Edith Priddy.

White Teamers Top Purples In Final Tilt

The Canyon eighth grade teams finished their 1971 grid season with an intramural scrimmage. The White team topped the Purple teamers, 8-0.

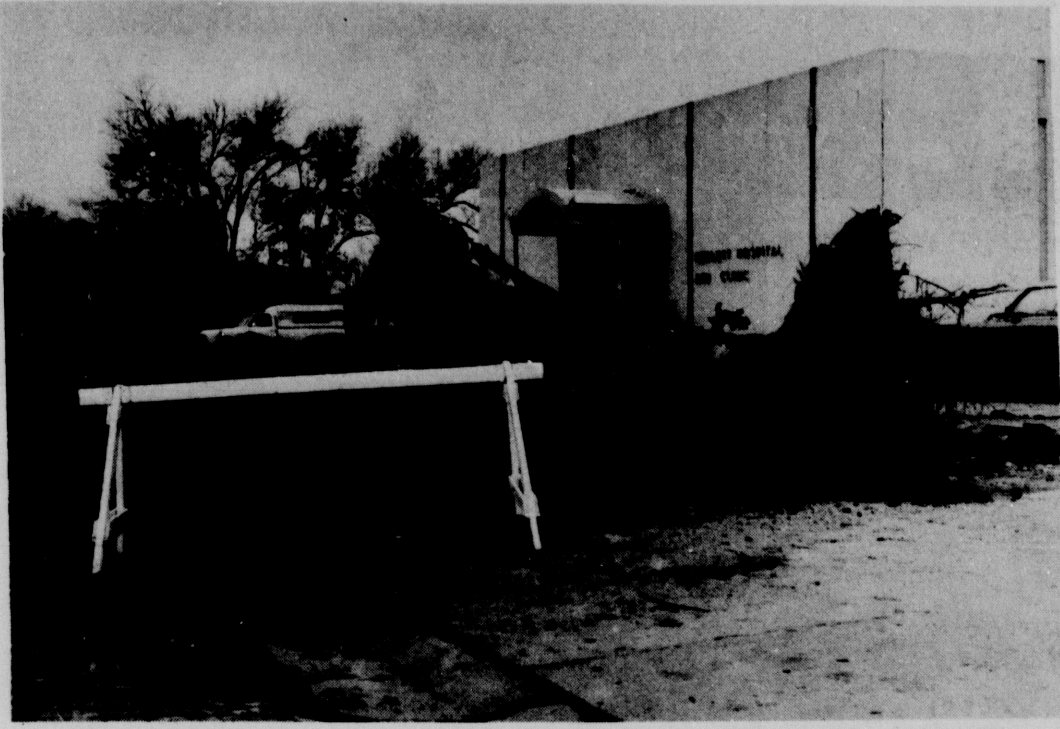

The game was scoreless until the final stanza when Lyndon Brazile ran 12 yards for the winning tally. Ken Basinger tacked on the PAT.

Ken Basinger and Donnie Bell were named the outstanding offensive and defensive backs respectively for the White team, while Mark Hanson, Bob Lindsay and David Coronado were the outstanding White Linemen.

Allen Shankles and Philip Halstead were the outstanding offensive and defensive Purple team backs. Wayne Robinson and Terry Hayhurst were the top Purple team linemen.

The last of the old trees--was the story at Neblett Memorial Hospital this week when six trees were removed from in front of the building in order to repair the sidewalk and increase the parking area. The hospital was barely recognizable sans trees, and the uprooted tree trunk seemed out of place in the hospital parking area.

Set Dec. 2

WT Orchestra Concert

Major works by Vivaldi, Tchaikowsky, Beethoven and Schubert will be presented in concert Dec. 2 by the West Texas State University Orchestra.

Performance time is 8 p.m. in the Fine Arts Theatre. The concert is free to the public.

The 50-member orchestra will open the concert with Vivaldi's violin concerto "Autumn" from "The Seasons."

One of four concertos describing the four seasons, the "Autumn" concerto musically creates a gay scene of farmers celebrating harvest time with song and dance that give way to weariness and slumber, ending with music detailing a hunting scene.

Soloist on the Vivaldi piece will be violinist Donald Todd, associate professor of music.

Also programmed is Tchaikowsky's "Serenade for Strings," a work the composer said he wrote "from impulse," with the first movement written as a "homage to Mozart."

The second movement of the work is a waltz, with undertones of Spanish rhythms and colors, and the finale opens with a solemn introduction followed by two Russian melodies, the second derived from a street song from the district of Kolomna.

The second part of the concert will open with Beethoven's overture to "Fidelio" which the composer wrote for the Vienna revival of the opera in 1814.

For the finale the orchestra will perform Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony No. 8 in B minor," work whose incomplete score has long been an enigma in musical circles.

The composition was written as a token of gratitude to the musical society in Graz, Germany in 1822, one of the few organizations to bestow an honor on the unrecognized Schubert in his lifetime by making him an honorary member.

The work, however, was not performed until 32 years after Schubert's death. The reason why the symphony, which spans an emotional spectrum from brooding intensity to uninterrupted rapture, stopped abruptly after nine measures of a third movement, has never been solved.

Directing the WTSU orchestra is Brian Walton, a member of the WTSU faculty since 1967.

He is widely known in the area as a cello soloist and as a member of the WTSU Piano Trio. He served as assistant to the resident conductor of the Cincinnati (Ohio) Symphony Orchestra prior to coming to WTSU, and is principal cellist and assistant conductor of the Amarillo Symphony.

Merchants First Drawing Is Scheduled December 2

Names will be drawn at 5 p.m. each Thursday, Dec. 2, 9, 16, and 23, and a person must be in one of the participating stores to be eligible.

Stores where registration boxes will be located are C&M Cafe, Thompson's, Cheatham's, Shell Pharmacy, Byrd Pharmacy, Haley Printing and Office Supply, Williams Et Cetra, Warren's, Ticky-Tacky Shop, Furniture Galleries, Dan's Fifth Avenue, McDonald Shop, White Auto Store and Western Auto Store.

A person can register as many times as he wishes, and winners will be announced on KCAN radio each Thursday. Employees of any participating store may register at a store where he is not employed.

By NELL WILLIAMS

When Pong Yim Chan is not working at the heavy load of studies required by his major in computer accounting at West Texas State University, he is often to be found in the game room at the Student Activities Center playing ping pong. "Ping pong is a very popular game in Hong Kong," explained Chan who came here from the British crown colony in August. In America, he uses the names James Chan because it is easier for the people here to remember and pronounce.

He chose West Texas after looking at its catalogue in a library in Hong Kong. He found that the school offered a major in computer accounting, which is what he wanted to study, and that it was less expensive than the West Coast schools which Chinese students often choose.

Not many students from Hong Kong attend West Texas, he said, because it is not listed in publications available to them.

A graduate of Munsang College in Hong Kong, Chan taught mathematics and chemistry for a year before coming to the United States. The boys he taught were students at Matteo Ricci High School, a private high school in Hong Kong.

He attended Munsang College for almost seven years, five of high school and two years of preparation for the university. In the British educational system, explained Chan, only three years of university work are required to earn a bachelor's degree. His credits from Hong Kong give him sophomore standing on the WT campus.

Chan expects to be in Canyon "for four years, I guess." He is financing his own education, and hopes to find summer and part-time work.

His father, a 30-year employee of the post office in Hong Kong expects to retire soon. His mother is a housewife "because we've got a rather big family." Chan is the oldest of eight children. He has four brothers and three sisters. Six of the children are still at home, but one of the boys is majoring in electrical engineering at the University of Minnesota.

Chan admits to being lonely in Canyon and said he might go back to Hong Kong after graduation, because all his family is there, but he is not sure, yet.

"Fortunately, I have made quite a lot of friends over here, and they are so very friendly to foreigners," said the student, who has not found the discrimination he was warned about before he left home.

In addition to the friends he has made on campus, Chan has already been invited to dinner with the Rotary Club and has met some non-students at First United Methodist Church.

Of America, he said "It is a very nice place. I like the extensive fields and the fresh air. Hong Kong is very crowded, with houses up to 10 floors."

He does find life more expensive in the United States and notices the prices of textbooks and movies, especially, but said that life in Hong Kong is so westernized that the ways of life are "pretty close."

Pong Yim (James) Chan has been studying computer accounting at West Texas State University for about three months. He is a native of Hong Kong.

Bufs Meet Southerners

The West Texas State Buffaloes will close out their 1971 season Saturday in Hattiesburg, Miss., when they battle the Southern Mississippi Southerners.

The Buffaloes will be shooting for their third win of the season, while the Southerners will take a 5-5 season mark into the game.

The Southerners won only one of their first six outings, but have yet to be beaten in the last four weeks.

Sophomore Buff running back Billy Pritchett will lead the Buff rusher in the game. Pritchett topped the 1,000 yard rushing mark last week against Drake. He has scampered 1,057 yards in 219 carries for a 4.8 average.

All the Buffaloes will be capable of playing in tilt, but numerous Buffs are plagued with minor injuries.

Fullback David Land will be slowed by a knee injury as will defensive tackle Thomas Tate, who has been plagued by knee problems all season. Sophomore defensive end Walter Hibbler will be hindered some by an ankle injury, but is expected to see considerable action. Daryl Carr has an injured shoulder; David Denny is bothered by a recurring knee injury and Manuel Gomez suffered a knee injury recently.

So, Mississippi has been beaten this year by such nationally ranked teams as Auburn and Alabama. They have topped Richmond, VMI, Louisiana Tech, Virginia Tech and San Diego State. Southerner split end, Wayne Hatcher, broke his leg two weeks ago against Louisiana Tech and will not see any action against the Buffs.

Daryl Wynn leads the West Texas State Gridders in pass receptions with 14, which were good for 206 yards, but Carl Brown has snagged eight aeriels good for 333 yards and three touchdowns. He is averaging 41.6 yards a catch.

Hrcnr and Ron Willingham lead the Buffaloes in interceptions with four apiece. Hrcnr has returned those for steals for 71 yards, while Willingham has gotten three yards on his four.

Game time in Hattiesburg is 1 p.m.

Mills Discounts Problems With Astro Turf Surface

Head Canyon Eagle Coach Ron Mills told the members of the Canyon Booster Club at their regular meeting Tuesday that his gridders should have very little trouble in adjusting to the artificial surfaced field that they must play on Saturday in the their bi-district game with Andrews.

"I have talked to several college coaches and they said that they did not feel like the astro turf would bother us that much," Mills said. "The team is going to go to Lubbock early Saturday morning to hold a short workout on the field so we can get the feel of it."

Mills also told the group that he had contacted every team that Andrews had played this year, but was unable to obtain any of their game films. "They (Andrews coaching staff) flew all over the Panhandle last week to watch our films," he added. "The Andrews team has seven boys that are both offensive and defensive starters."

Had a party? Or giving one? Tell The Canyon News About It. Telephone 655-2141, or stop by the News office on the west side of the square.

Mills said. The Eagles have only three boys that start both offensively and defensively and have one player that starts offensively and alternates on offense. "We just hope to wear them out," the head Eagle mentor added.

It was announced that seventh, eighth and ninth grade game films will be shown at Tuesday's Booster Club meeting and that the parents of players on those teams are invited to that meeting.

Raymond Hinders Addresses Jr. Livestock Meet

Dr. Raymond Hinders will speak at the annual membership dinner of the Randall County Junior Livestock Association at 7 p.m. Tuesday in the Canyon Community Center.

Hinders will speak on his recent trip to Spain. Association business such as reports, election of officers, committee work will be covered during the meeting immediately following dinner.

Show dates will be finalized and procedural rule changes will be considered.

Penny Crowley, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Crowley, and Steven LaGrone, the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Bulman, examine a board of information about drug use and abuse which was part of a recent sixth-grade study unit.

Sixth-Graders Vote "No" On Trying Drugs

A study concerning the use and abuse of drugs climaxed for sixth grade science students at Rex Reeves School Nov. 18 when they and their parents heard a talk by Mrs. Theo Noble of Amarillo, who described the life of a boy who died while under the influence of drugs.

Earlier, the youngsters had used films, records, newspapers, books and pamphlets to compile facts about drugs.

James Prock, who teaches the sixth-graders science and health, said that only facts were given to the students. Opinion and persuasion were ruled out, he said.

At the end of the unit, the students wrote unsigned paragraphs in answer to the question "When the opportunity comes for you to experiment with, try out, or use drugs in any abusive form, what are you going to do about it?"

Prock said that in the three years, he has taught the unit, he has had only one student answer that he would accept the chance to experiment. He said that many say they

Walling Cites Strengths, Weaknesses Of Buff Cagers

Editors note: This article is the first in a series of two concerning head Buffalo basketball cage coach Dennis Walling's feelings about the 1971-72 Buffs.

"We're gonna win 25 this year," predicted West Texas State Buffalo basketball team captain Ralph Houston at a Buff press conference Monday.

The Buffaloes will open their 1971-72 season with an inter-team scrimmage tonight in the Amarillo Civic Center Arena.

Head basketball coach Dennis Walling said, "We will play two 20 minute halves with the best 10 boys I've got."

The scrimmage will be an open house for the public. Two season tickets and an autographed basketball will be given away.

Children will be allowed on the playing court to meet the Buffalo team members.

Walling said that he felt offensively the Buffs were 15 points a game stronger than they were last year. He added, however, that defensively the team was seven or eight points weaker than last year and schedule wise, because of opponents returning lettermen and strength, each team the Buffs meet will be seven or eight points stronger.

"So—what it boils down to is that we are about even with a year ago," Walling said.

The mentor cited some strong points and weak points of the club saying:

"Rebounding is our strongest point. We were number two in the nation last year in rebounding. I have challenged the boys to be the best. We hope that we can get 60 rebounds per game."

"Depth...We are two deep in every position and three deep in some positions."

"Quickness...We are a quick ball club."

"We are weak on defense. It is kind of dissapointing."

"We're just not mentally though. We are not quite as vicious as we should be."

— "We don't have the leadership. Ralph (Houston) is a good leader but with his foot in a cast he can't help us a whole lot. We are going to be struggling without Ralph, but we have the talent to win without him."

Houston broke his foot three weeks ago and according to the team doctor, the cast should be taken off Dec. 6. He, however, is scheduled to make the first road trip, which begins Dec. 7 with Weber State at Logan, Utah. "Ralph has been working out to keep his eye sharp, but we are not going to play him until we need him," Walling said.

Walling summed up his outlook for the year saying, "We are going for all the marbles this year. We are going to try to win 22 games. If we can win two of the first three road games we play (Weber State, Utah State and Long Island University) somebody better watch out, 'cause we are going to have a fantastic season."

NEXT: Walling's evaluation of the team members and their potential.

Edmondson Paces Canyon Rushers

Senior halfback Ric Edmondson unofficially led the Canyon Eagles in individual rushing yardage this season with 608 yards on 125 carries for a 4.8 carry average.

Wingback Daryl Curtis set the pace for most yards per carry with 5.0 as he carried the ball 158 yards on 30 carries. Fullback Cliff Prichard carried the ball only three times less than Edmondson with 122. He scampered 502 yards during the regular season.

Quarterback Chuck Wright elected to pass 129 times during the ten game schedule and completed 51 of those for 658 yards. He connected on just over 39 per cent of his aeriels and had four intercepted.

Stompers End Season With Win Over UTEP

West Texas State's freshman footballers completed a successful season Friday night in Odessa with a 47-6 romp over the University of Texas at El Paso frosh.

The Stompers won three of four games during the year. They downed Wichita State 43-7 and New Mexico Military Institute, 34-17, while their loss came at the hands of the University of Tulsa freshmen 41-7.

Former all-stater Jimmy Lisle paced the Buff rushers with 502 net yards in 58 carries. Johnny Jackson, former Kress standout picked up 201 net yards in 55 carries and Ronnie Fangman scampered 122 yards in 45 carries.

Mike Wartes, who hails from Hereford, completed 16 of 39 aeriels for 450 yards. Split end Kenny Sellers of Crowell totaled 304 yards with seven receptions. Marced Solis, tight end from Mission, had snagged eight passes for 151 yards.

Head freshman coach Ronnie Mankin said, "We are extremely proud of the boys. As Coach (Gene) Mayfield has said many times football is an emotional game and I believe our boys want to play ball."

"I have high hopes that they will make a valuable contribution to the varsity squad next year."

The court tabled a request for a Medical Examiner's District, including Potter and Randall Counties, until more information could be gathered on the district.

In other action, the court set the county employees Christmas party for 11:30 a.m. Dec. 22 in the county commissioners courtroom, approved pay raises for three employees of the county road maintenance department, and approved two requests for county welfare assistance.

The court accepted a bid of $462.44 from Mark Davis Carpet in Amarillo for 59 square yards of carpet for the district courtroom. The only other bid submitted was for $524. from Casey Carpet Company.

The next commissioners court meeting will be the first Monday in December.

CHILDHOOD NOSEBLEEDS ARE COMMON

The three most frequent reasons for a child's nosebleed are a dryness of the mucous membranes, rubbing or picking at the nose during sleep and a small ulcer area in the nose. If repeated often, consult a physician.

Often the problem can be corrected by improving the humidification in the home and the application of white petroleum jelly to the inside of the nostrils to prevent dryness. If needed your doctor can, in a simple procedure, cauterize a small ulcerated area.

J. O. Parker was enthusiastic about the cattle industry this year.

Lorenzo Wirt Dies; Rites Held Tuesday

A lifetime resident of Canyon died Sunday afternoon in Neblett Memorial Hospital ending 73 years of active church and community work.

Lorenzo Wirt of 2111 Third Avenue died at 1 p.m. Sunday following a month-long illness.

Mr. Wirt was born in Canyon Feb. 28, 1898 and has resided here since. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. V. Wirt, were pioneers in this West Texas city, his father being the town's first druggist and his mother serving as the second postmaster.

The only child of Samuel Vincent and Carlee Thompson Wirt married Ildagerte Dale in Canyon, July 23, 1916, and the couple had three sons and three daughters. Mrs. Wirt died June 17, 1966.

Mr. Wirt was a retired electrical contractor and served as plant superintendent at West Texas State University for 21 years.

He graduated from Canyon High School in 1915, attended West Texas State Normal College.

His main interest through the years was in the First Christian Church, where he was a member and trustee, and in the Masonic Lodge. He was a charter member of the Khiva Shrine in Amarillo, a member of the Order of Eastern Star, and the Canyon City Chapter and Council.

Other activities included the Rotary Club and the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers.

Mr. Wirt may be best remembered by his friends as an avid checkers player, and he was an active member of the National Checkers Foundation.

"He even played checkers by mail," a family member recalled this week. "In fact, he had a new electric typewriter to make certain he got his X's in the right square."

Funeral services for Lorenzo Wirt were conducted at 10 a.m. Tuesday in The First Christian Church in Canyon with Rev. Ivan Adams, pastor officiating.

Masonic graveside rites were conducted by the Canyon City Lodge 730 at Dreamland Cemetery under the direction of LaGrone Funeral Chapel.

Memorials should be sent to the First Christian Church.

Pallbearers included C. F. Hollabaugh, Jim Cabe, W. A. Patke, Cecil Read, Terry Clark, John Jennings, George Blackwell and Lee Roy Moreland.

Honorary pallbearers were A. W. Mack, T. A. Black, Burney Slack, C. N. Cosby, Murry Barton, Marion Higdon and Luke Miller.

Survivors include three sons, Wayne V. of Canyon, L. D. of Fort Worth, and John Louis of Friant, Calif.; three daughters, Mrs. Carlee Hix of Canyon, Mrs. Mary C. Hough of Palatine, Ill., and Mrs. Martha Harmon of Tulsa; eight grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

11 All-Region Candidates, 7 All-State

Seven Canyon High School Songsters were named all-state candidates and 11 were picked for the All-Region Choir during tryouts Saturday in Dumas.

Tom Jennings, CHS choir director, said the seven selected for all-state finals, is the most named to compete in the state competition from any AAA school.

The top five students from each section of the choir was chosen to tryout on an area basis in Lubbock January 15, 1972.

The all-region choir members will perform in a concert Jan. 8 in Dumas.

All-State choir members are Lauran Fulton, first soprano; Sheryl Bellah, first alto; Lea Schickendanz, second alto; Jon Green, baritone; Mike Raillard, bass; Sammy Kerbel, tenor; and Mike Demus, tenor.

All-region candidates in addition to the top seven were Tim Bashor, bass; Jamie Gallimore, bass; Pam Stribling, first alto and Teresa Moore, first alto.

Starving Artists Art Show Dec. 3-4

Starving artists from the Panhandle will gather Dec. 3 and 4 in the Bellah building on the Canyon downtown square and give the folks of Canyon an opportunity to purchase arts and crafts at prices under $15.

According to Mrs. Margaret Reid, show director, all goods must be sold for under $15, and items will include paintings, homemade Christmas decorations, and other crafts.

Individuals and organizations can host booths in the exhibit with the deadline for entering Nov. 29.

Mrs. Reid said food booths will be allowed, but food can not be eaten inside the building during the show.

Cost for entry is $5 for individuals and $10 for organizations. The band will not charge a commission.

Dean Sees School As Controversial

The School of Veterinary and Zoological Medicine at Texas Tech including a branch at West Texas State University will be as controversial in the legislature as it was in the coordinating board, according to Dr. Charles Smallwood, dean of the School of Agriculture at WT.

"The big question," Smallwood said, "is not the service to this area but whether we need another school of veterinary medicine."

The State College Coordinating Board approved the school at a meeting Friday in San Marcos. Tech's proposal, which won out over a competing request by Texas A & M, calls for the construction of facilities costing $5.4 million.

Dr. Smallwood said that if and when the legislature funds the school, WTSU will have a diagnostic laboratory to assist practitioners in diagnosing diseases and identifying diseases by laboratory examination.

The second part of the program will be a large animal clinic where senior students from the School of Veterinary Medicine at Tech would participate in large animal practice.

Dr. Smallwood said that WTSU would be working with Texas Tech on formulation of the clinic and laboratory pending funding by the legislature.

He said that the governor could ask that the proposal be considered by the special session of the legislature this spring or that at the latest, the program would be considered by the legislature in January, 1973.

Dr. Smallwood said that he felt that WTSU would have the clinic and laboratory even if the legislature refused the school of Veterinary Medicine at Texas Tech. If the school was refused then the program would be accomplished through Texas A & M, he said.

The diagnostic facility will be a regular laboratory for the use of industry in the area. He said that those using the laboratory would pay an analysis fee and that the laboratory would be self-sustaining.

The clinic would use livestock from this region for treatment at a very nominal fee, Smallwood said.

The School was approved by a 6-5 vote of the coordinating board. Wayne Thomas, of Hereford, chairman of the board, broke a tie vote when two of the 13-member board abstained from voting.

Dr. Smallwood said that Tech plans to open the new school with twenty-five students in the fall of 1973 if funding is received by the legislature.

Businesses And Schools Close

Today is the big day for turkey eaters. And school children and businessmen alike are vacationing. Everyone, that is, except moms.

West Texas State University dismissed classes at noon Wednesday, and Canyon public schools closed their doors around 2:30 p.m.

Even the businesses joined in, with most halting business for the annual Thanksgiving celebration.

All offices in the Randall County Courthouse will be closed Thursday for Thanksgiving.

The tax assessor-collectors office will also be closed Saturday morning, according to Audrey Bruse.

And the city hall will not open for the holiday.

But true, blue Mother remained hard at work, stuffing the turkey, basting the bird, tossing the salads, baking the bread, and mixing all with the proverbial "holiday spirit."

So it's Thanksgiving time in Canyon and across the nation. Relax and enjoy the day-off...and help mom with the dishes.

A special thanks to me little friend, Troyce Mulherin, for doing the column while we were away. As per usual, she did an excellent job and isn't it delightful to have someone so talented among us. Thanks much, Troyce.

Here comes an opportunity to "knockin' — The Canyon Eagle Band parents are sponsoring a Starving Artist Show that is to be held on Friday and Saturday (December 3 and 4) on the Southwest corner of the square in the Bellah Building in big Canyon, Texas. Understand there is still booth space available for artists wishing to exhibit (their artifacts). Entry fee for organizations is $10.00 and $5.00 for an individual. The deadline is November 29. Just call Mrs. Bill Reid at 655-4788 or Mrs. Duane Guy at 655-4536. Now yall just pick up the tele and give them a call and the rest of us will come see your pretties. The selling price will not exceed $15.00 (and most of us can handle that) and will be open from 9 to 6...

Congratulations to the Sixth Grade Choir at Gene Howe. They have been invited to be in a joint production with the Junior High Choir under the direction of Mr. Gene Murray on Dec. 9 at the Canyon Junior High at 7:30. Of course we all know the reason the Gene Howe Choir is so is because of that spiffy, capable Mrs. Margie Phillips. Shall we see you there? Hope so...

And, some more culture coming our — The Nutcracker is being presented at the Civic Center Auditorium at 8:15 on November 29th. This also is a must...and is being presented by the Amarillo Ballet Theatre with Edward Vilella and Violette Verdy, who are under the auspices of the New York City Ballet. The entire production is made up of local people (with the exception of Vilella and Verdy) and tickets are $6, $5, and $4 with a dollar reduction for children under twelve. As you may or may not know this is the third annual production and several of our Canyon darlings will be doing their thing.

Happy Birthday to Gene Aduddell.

Put a costume and a mask on an adult — a complete change of character takes place... who in the world was that attending a recent Halloween party dressed as a cheerleader? Understand his wife went as a football player? Have been asked not to divulge names — wonder why?

Last week it was erroneously reported that Bill's team has been to Waco with a two-fold purpose — would you believe that this was only one man — no team at all — just Bill Team went to Waco for a two-fold purpose — excuse us Bill — gonna take a course in typing 'ere long.

Happy Birthday to Duane

Howard.

Well, weren't you surprised that I have rattled on this long and not said a word about our trip. But, oh, oh, what a trip. If I could have at my bidding adequate words to describe CA Caracas, Venezuela, and space available to relate it to you! But not only the former is true, but alas, the latter also. But before I sign off I must tell you that the trip was simply fantastic, a memory we shall store away for a rainy day to recall and bring a smile. The people are so very gracious and they do love the American people, and are quite taken by red-heads, and I do love to be loved. The city of Caracas has a population in excess of 2 million people and it is a sight to behold. The local people drive simply wild and merely sit down on the horn when another motorcar almost causes their untimely demise. Needless to say everything grows prolific and the sun rises and sets everyday of the year at exactly 6:30. The temperature is about 85 and obviously quite humid, which makes your skin feel simply delicious (a bit different from this dry Texas Panhandle that we are so accustomed to). Me, and some of my Texas friends had the pleasure of visiting in the home of Dr. and Mrs. SeSar Rodriguez is Caracas who is a very prominent thoracic surgeon. Their son is attending Texas University and rooms with an Amarillian, young Avery Rush. They have socialized medicine there and a large percentage of his practice is involved in this regard. The government of Venezuela provides the people (indigent) with electricity, water, and trash pickup — consequently they have this feeling of security which is reflected in their manner of life — a very happy people. Must stop now, but before I go — Lovie had a real thrilling experience. He went on a safari 125 miles into the jungle and while he was strolling down the jungle trail, a Puma or Jaguar cat jumped right down out of a tree and almost got the love of my life. WOW...I'll bet the ole ad-alain was shooting thru his bod. Anyway, he was safe and really never gets as excited as I do in telling it. Egad, it would have been awful if he had been killed, understand it literally takes weeks to get a body out of a foreign country. Well, simply must go back to Caracas some day and the two phrases I learned and feel from the heart are "Me gusta mucho Caracas, and Me gustaria volver a Caracas." Adios amigos.....pmh

Fog Slows Driving

Canyon motorists found the going rough Monday night and Tuesday night when dense fog dropped over the city and county.

Drivers were slowed to a near crawl, and Canyon school buses Tuesday morning ran a "little" late. But Department of Public Safety officials said no accidents were reported in the immediate area due to the fog.

The low cloud cover ranged from one-eighth of a mile in visibility at 1 a.m. and again at 7:30 a.m. Tuesday up to five miles around 5:30 a.m.

Weathermen said visibility had risen to around eight miles by mid-day Tuesday, but another heavy fog dipped down late Tuesday.

L. H. Brotherton of the school said buses only ran five to ten minutes late, and drivers reported fog heavy in some sections and light in others.

Crow Oils To Be Exhibited

The paintings of Mrs. W. R. (Dimple) Crow will be on display at West Texas Arts, 710 23rd St., from Sunday through Dec. 4.

Owner Terry Martin will host an open house and reception for the artist from 2 to 5 p.m. Sunday.

Mrs. Crow will be showing about 45 oils, including the bluebonnet scenes she is noted for, still lifes, western views, and "everything except portraits," she said.

Mrs. Crow is recently back from a "Flaming Ozarks" tour, and many of the paintings in the exhibit were inspired by the countryside through which she traveled.

The artist, who grew up at Tulia, has lived in Canyon for the past 30 years. She has drawn and painted from the time she could hold a pencil, she said.

Currently her work is being shown in Austin, Dallas, Corpus Christi, Taos, Elk City and Albuquerque, and she has an order from one gallery for 100 pictures.

She is also doing work for future shows, still in the planning stages.

This July, she exhibited a group of paintings at the Elm Tree Inn in Tulia.
